

POPULATION HEALTH INITIATIVE (PHI) PILOT AWARD APPLICATIONS
MATCHING FUNDS REQUESTS – Winter 2022

Overview:

The School of Public Health (SPH) is committed to supporting population health research and the Population Health Initiative (PHI) efforts to stimulate this research. Therefore, we are prepared to commit matching funds for the PHI Pilot awards. Departments may commit additional matching funds. The level of support provided will vary based on the role of the SPH faculty member in the project

Beginning in Winter 2022, the PHI has adopted a tiered approach for the next two years of the program, described in detail here and summarized below.

- Tier 1: Up to $25,000 per project with a project period of up to eight months. Available Winter, Spring, & Autumn through 2023.
- Tier 2: Up to $50,000 per project with a project period of up to 12 months. Up to $65,000 for projects including community-based organizations. Available Winter & Autumn through 2023.
- Tier 3: Up to $150,000 per project with a project period of up to 18 months. Up to $200,000 for projects including community-based organizations. Available Spring 2022 and Spring 2023. (Tier 3 is NOT available in Winter 2022)

Matching amount (irrespective of Tier):

- $15,000 if SPH faculty member is the PI and award is administered within the SPH
- $5,000 if SPH faculty member is a collaborator and award is administered outside the SPH.
- Additional matching funds may also be provided by your home department

Deadlines:

- Tier 1 applications: Submit requests for SPH matching funds no later than January 31, 2022 so we can respond before the PHI deadline of February 1, 2022.
- Tier 2 applications: Submit summary of letter of intent (LOI) and request for SPH matching funds no later than January 13, 2022 so we can respond before the LOI deadline of January 14, 2022. Invited full applications due March 1, 2022.
- Tier 3 applications: Submit summary of letter of intent (LOI) and request for SPH matching funds no later than March 31, 2022 so we can respond before the LOI deadline of April 1, 2022. Invited full applications due May 13, 2022.

Process:

Send your request for SPH matching funds to Lisa Manhart (lmanhart@uw.edu), including the following information:

Project Name: <Title>
SPH Faculty Role: PI or Co-I
Collaborator Affiliations: Departments and/or Schools

Total Budget: $XX,XXX
SPH Match: $15,000 or $5,000 (see above)
Department Match: $X,XXX if provided
Match from other school/college: $X,XXX if applicable
TOTAL Requested from PHI: $X,XXX (e.g., total budget minus total dollar amount of matching)

Documenting the SPH match for your application:

A PDF of an email from the Dean's Office documenting the matching commitment is sufficient for the PHI application. Letters of support are not required for this opportunity.

NOTE: This matching funds policy is subject to availability of funds and may be modified after the Winter 2022 cycle.
