Upcoming events and updates

ITHS Logic Syntax via RedCap Workshop

Tuesday, November 14 | 11am – 12pm | Online

Expanding upon basic branching logic, this class will incorporate more complex logic in your REDCap projects.

Disability Community Mixer

Thursday, November 16 | 4 – 5:30pm | HRC 280 (lobby above Starbucks)

Let's gather, celebrate, and eat! Come meet others in the community and enjoy a short panel of SPH students, staff, and faculty members with disabilities. This is a space for SPH community members who identify as disabled, d/Deaf, chronically ill, neurodivergent, and/or having a mental health condition (or folks who are exploring one of those identities).

Faculty Success Program

Registration ends November 15

This intensive online program is our most popular program. It helps non-tenure track, tenure-track, and tenured faculty develop the skills necessary to increase research and writing productivity while maintaining a healthy work-life balance.

CSDE Seminar - Overcoming Institutional Closure in Immigration Research: How TRAC Uses Public Records Requests to Study the Deportation State

Friday, November 17 | 12:30 – 1:30pm | HRC 101 & Online

Join us for conversation with Dr. Austin Kocher, immigration researcher and faculty member at TRAC, who will unpack TRAC's various methodologies, key research findings, and ongoing impact on public policy and popular discourse.

Faculty Development Program Meeting

Tuesday, November 21 | 12 – 1pm |HRC 375 & Online

Research Resources for Faculty Researchers. This is open to all assistant faculty (WOTF, TT, Research and Teaching Tracks).

Promotions Workshop with Deepa Rao, Lianne Sheppard, Meghan Herman and Charlotte Hentges

Thursday, November 30 | 11:30 to 1pm | HRC Rm 250 & Online

For faculty who assemble promotion packets in the coming year.

CSDE Workshop – Biomarker Data Analysis

Thursday, November 30 | 11am – 12pm | HRC 101 & Online

This workshop is an hourlong introduction to doing data analysis with biomarker data with CSDE Biodemography Lab Director Tiffany Pan.

Team Writing: Opportunities and Challenges

Thursday, December 7 | 12 – 1pm | Online

Co-authored papers tend to be cited more frequently than single-authored papers and are ubiquitous in the sciences. Yet, team-based writing can be challenging. Join the third session of the 2023-2024 ITHS Team Science Seminar Series to learn about tools and strategies to support productive, impactful, and enjoyable team-based writing.
