

PUBLIC HEALTH – GLOBAL HEALTH MAJOR

Current Degree Requirements for Students admitted to the Major through WIN 2024

Public Health-Global Health is a school-wide liberal education major, leading to a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science, which uses public health questions, concepts and tools to help students develop competencies in assessment & measurement, communication, environment, ethics & social justice, natural science, population health, policy & politics, and social science with particular emphasis on collaboration and critical thinking across these domains. Graduates move on to a range of career and education options in public health, health professions, health sciences, and law, as well as business, economics, education, and social and behavioral sciences.

ADMISSION

Admission to this major is capacity-constrained and offered twice a year for autumn and winter quarters. Applications are evaluated with a holistic approach; considering overall academic record, grades in relevant coursework selection of and preparation for the BA or BS, ability to make satisfactory progress towards degree, and potential contributions to the diversity of the cohort.

Upper Division Admission
