MYRA PARKER

2010 Health Services doctoral graduate

Myra Parker, JD, MPH, PhD is an associate professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences, and director of Seven Directions: A Center for Indigenous Public Health, based within the Center for the Study of Health and Risk Behaviors at the University of Washington. She received her doctorate in Health Services at the UW School of Public Health in 2010 and has been a member of the faculty since 2011.

Dr. Parker's research and clinical interests include: (1) cultural adaptation of alcohol and drug interventions among American Indians and Alaska Natives (with a particular focus on reducing alcohol use among tribal college students), (2) development and testing of parenting interventions to support early childhood development in American Indian and Alaska Native communities, (3) co-morbidity of substance use with depression, suicide, trauma, and PTSD, (4) research capacity development, including ethical aspects of research, for tribal and urban Indian communities; and, (5) dissemination and translation of evidence-based prevention and intervention approaches at the individual, institutional, and community level, including policy development. She has worked with tribal and urban Indian communities across the United States on these topics.

This booklet is not an official graduation list. While every effort is made to ensure accuracy, printing deadlines may result in the omission of some names and the inadvertent inclusion of others who have not completed graduation requirements as intended. This printed booklet should not be used to determine a student's academic or degree status.

The University's official registry for conferral degrees is the student's permanent record, maintained by the UW Office of Graduation and Academic Records.
